LOCAL MAN FOR COLLECTOR JOB GIST OF CABLE TO WASHINGTON

Commercial Bodies Unite in Forwarding Request to Secretary McAdoo

RESOLUTION PAYS TRIBUTE TO WORK OF STACKABLE

If Change Is to be Made, Resident of Territory Asked to be Appointed

A lengthy cablegram, signed by the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce and the Honolulu Merchants' Association, this morning was forwarded to William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, urging that the person selected to take the place of E. R. Stackable as collector of customs at this port, in case any change is to be made, be a resident of the territory of Hawaii.

Paying a tribute to E. R. Stackable for his 14 years of service in the position which lately he has been asked to resign, the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce and the directors of the Merchants' Association, meeting in joint session at 10 o'clock this morning, unanimously passed a resolution to the effect that the secretary of the treasury be informed by cable that, in the opinion of the commercial bodies of Honolulu, the new collector of customs for the port of Honolulu be a resident of the territory of Hawaii, should any change be made.

The resolution which finally was adopted was in the form of an amendment to a resolution offered by J. A. Kennedy, which was not passed on account of the fact that it suggested a step which the directors and trustees did not favor, the commercial bodies taking at this time. The amendment was proposed by E. F. Bishop and was unanimously adopted. Following the meeting it was called to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in full, the message reading as follows:

"The following resolution was unanimously passed at a joint meeting of the commercial bodies of Honolulu this day, for which we ask your careful attention:

"Be it resolved by the trustees of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce and the directors of the Honolulu Merchants' Association that a cable be forwarded to the secretary of the treasury at Washington stating that the services of the present collector of customs of the district of Hawaii, Mr. E. R. Stackable, have been highly efficient for a period of 14 years past, but if any change is to be made, inasmuch as we have among our citizens men of ability and standing able to fill this position satisfactorily to the government and the territory, that we respectfully request that a resident of this territory be appointed to the position."

The resolution presented by Mr. Kennedy follows:

"Be it resolved by the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce that this body favors the appointment of a local business man for this position, in the event that Mr. Stackable no longer continues to hold the same, and "That in view of the efficient and capable services which have been rendered to the commercial community of the territory of Hawaii, of C. J. McCarthy, during the past three years, as harbor commissioner, and in further consideration of his fitness for the position of collector of customs, both in his personal character and his business abilities, which are of the highest order, this body respectfully urge and request that he be appointed to the position of collector of customs for the port of Honolulu. And be it further resolved that this request be immediately cabled to the authorities in Washington."

The first paragraph in Mr. Kennedy's resolution met with the approval of those present, but it was the last paragraph which started the discussion. Several of those present gave their views on the matter, stating that, while they were not opposed to Mr. McCarthy for the position of collector, they did not believe it would be a wise policy for the commercial bodies of Honolulu to offer recommendations in such a matter. Such had never been the policy, it was said. Mr. Bishop then offered his amendment, which was unanimously carried.

It was further voted to send by wireless to the chambers of commerce on the other islands copies of the resolution, with the request that they give it their support. The meeting was presided over by F. C. Atherton. Present were F. C. Atherton, J. P. C. Higgins, E. D. Tenney, J. W. Waldron, J. P. Cooke, E. F. Bishop, A. W. T. Bottomley, J. A. Kennedy and H. P. Wood representing the Chamber of Commerce, and W. R. Farrington, R. B. Booth, O. A. Bierbach, Charles S. Crane, S. S. Paxson, J. T. Warren and Ed. Towse, representing the Merchants' Association.

JAPANESE CRUISERS WELCOMED TO HONOLULU

Adzuma and Asama Visit Here, Enroute to Troubled Mexican Waters

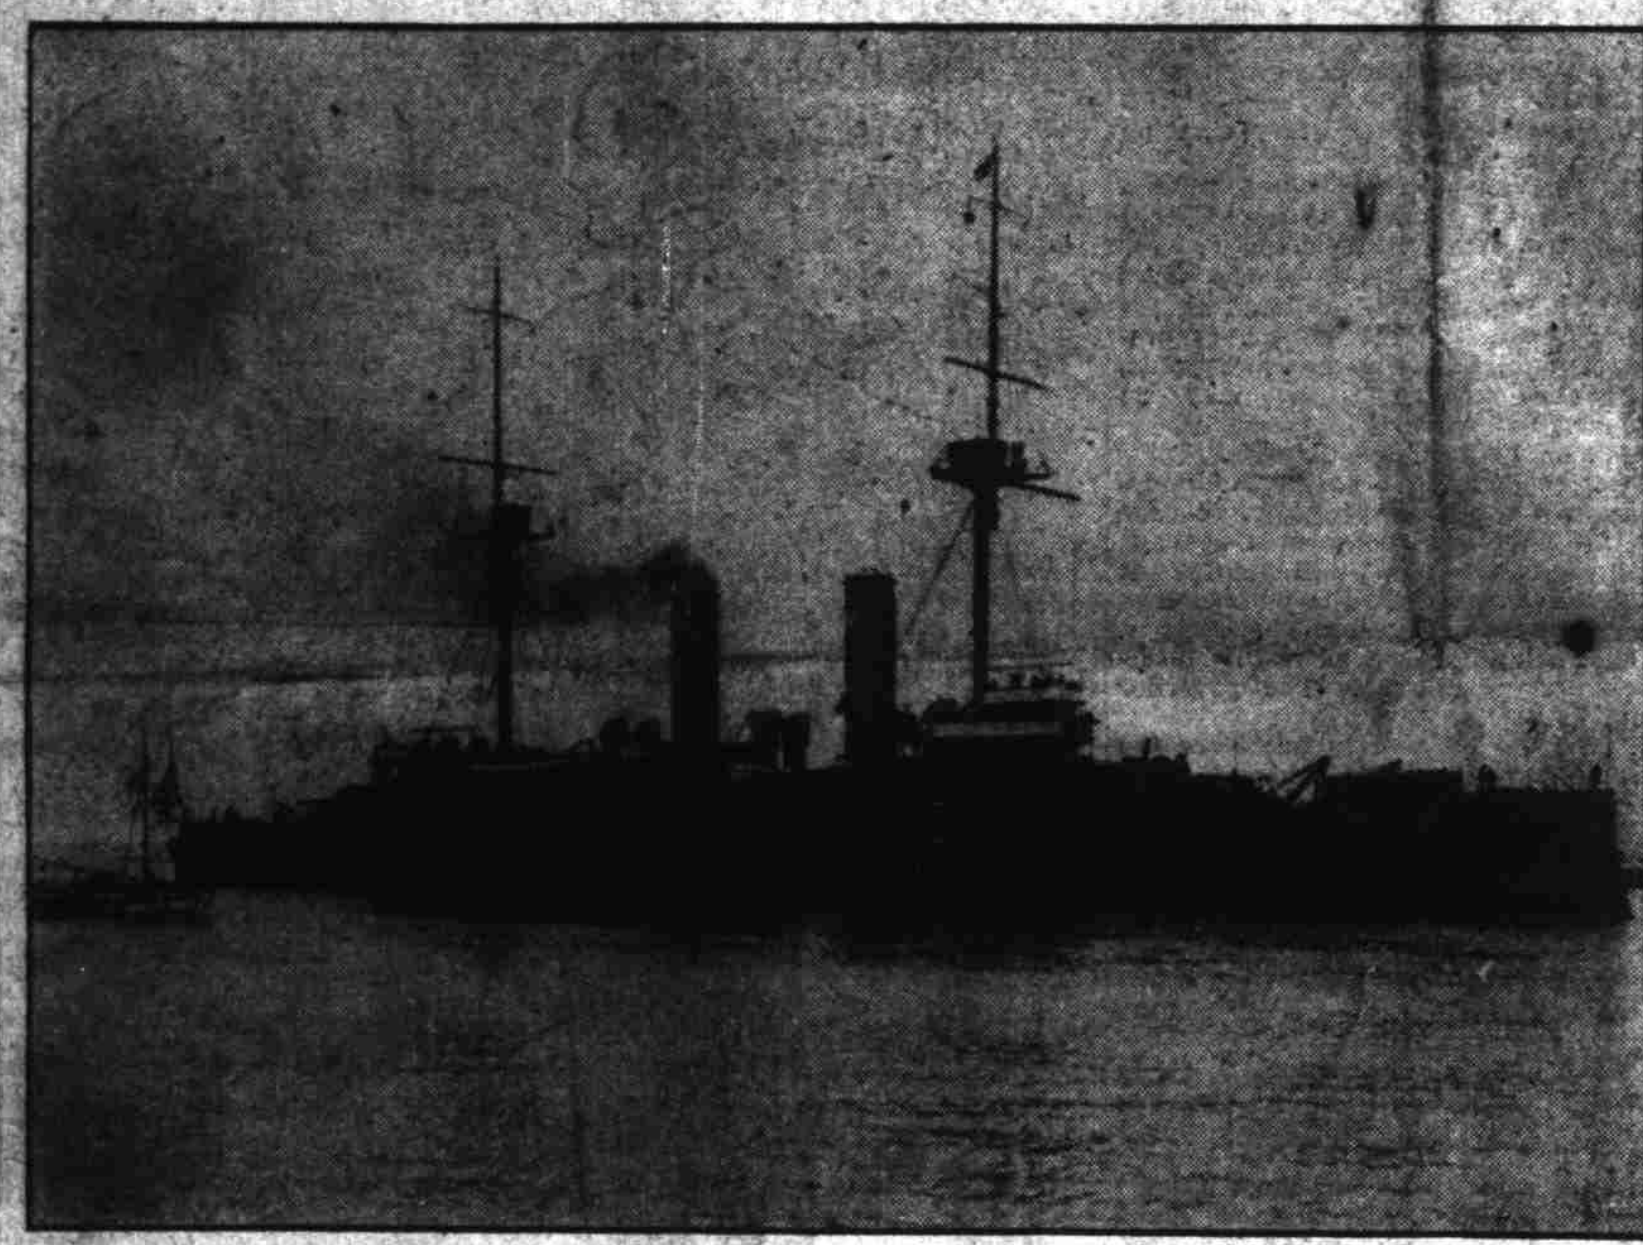

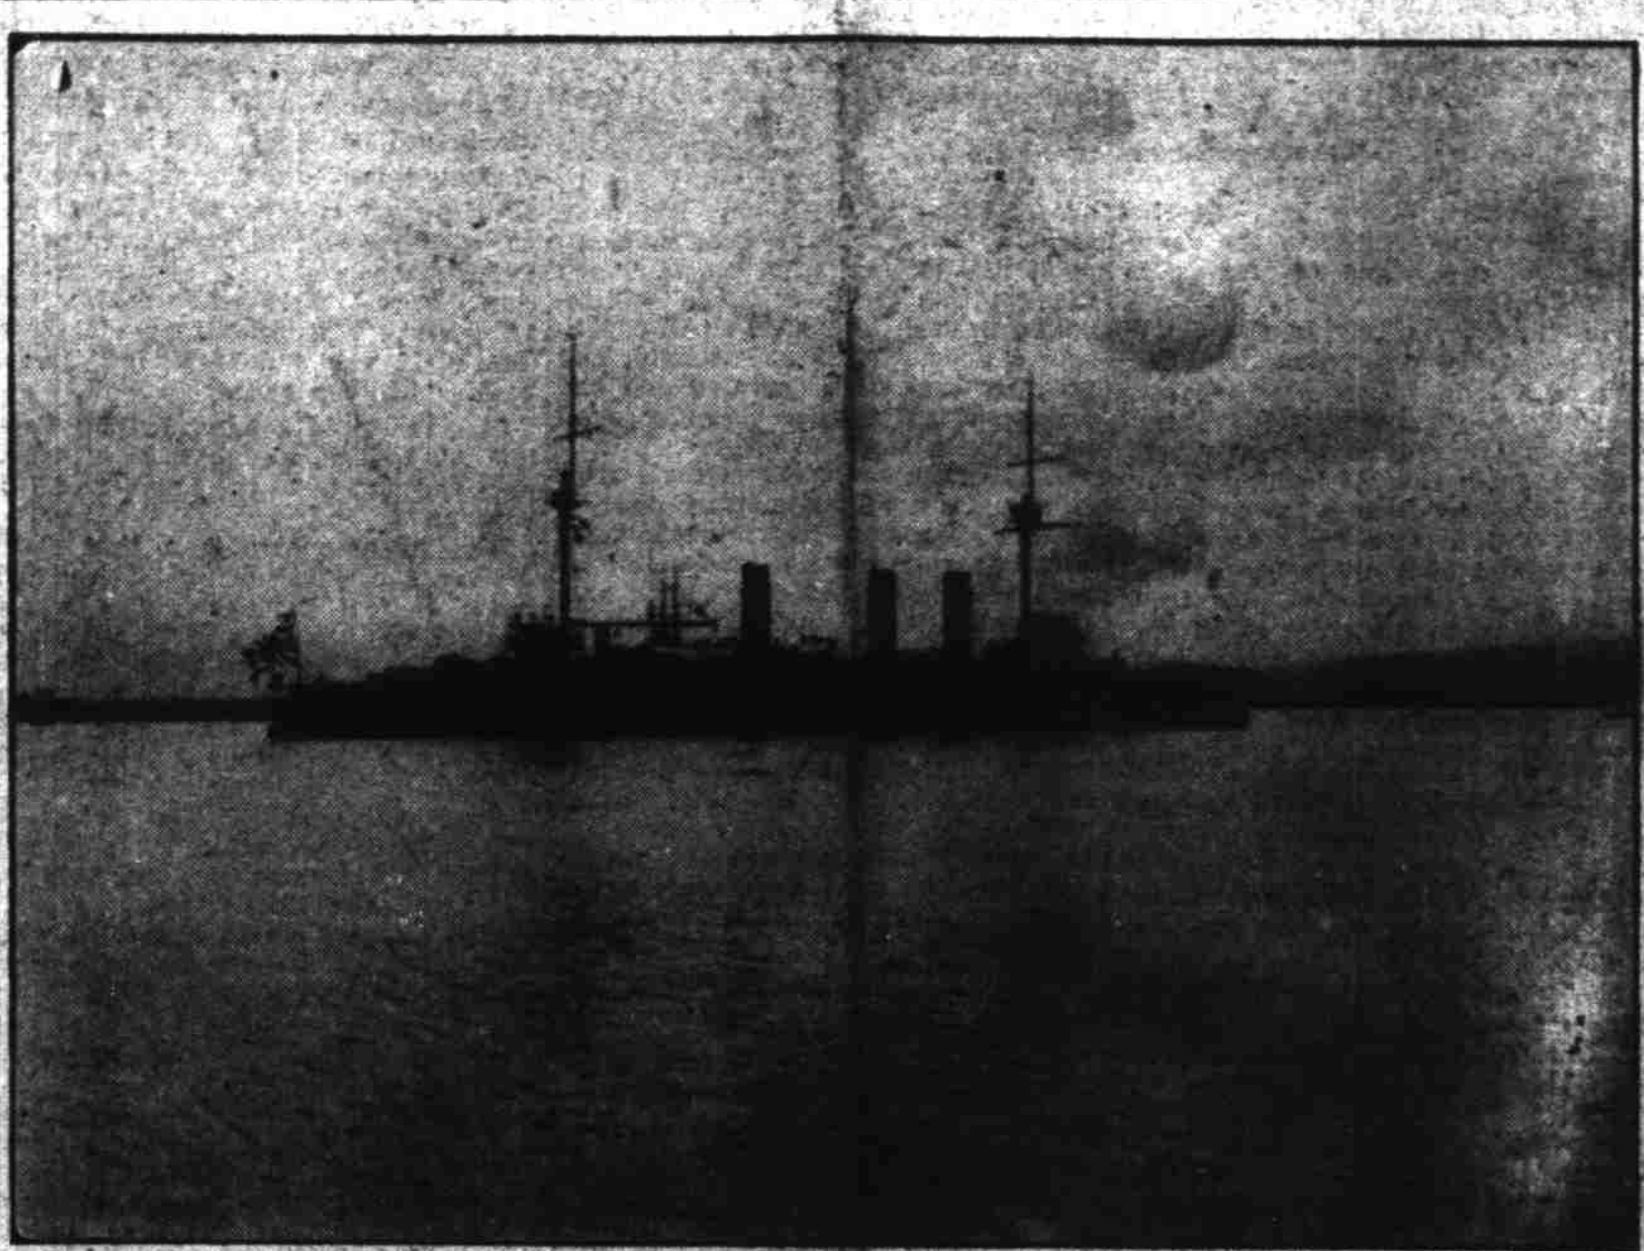

ENTERTAINMENTS PLANNED FOR THE VESSELS' CREWS

Reception Committee of Countrymen Greets Ships—Official Calls Are Made

The coast of the troubled republic of Mexico will be the destination of two grim appearing first class Japanese cruisers that after being subjected to the usual formalities at quarantine, steamed into the harbor, amid the interchange of a flag salute of 21 guns today, the Asama taking a berth at pier 5, while the three funneled Adzuma was hauled to the ewa side pier 7.

From the Asama flew the ensign of Rear-admiral T. Kuroi, and it was to this vessel that Lieutenant Pillow, representing General Carter of the United States army and Lieutenant Lando, delegated to pay the respects of Rear-admiral C. B. T. Moore, visited, in making a brief official call shortly before 11 o'clock this morning.

about 1600, remain in the islands, it is planned that a series of entertainments be given to which all who are identified with the cruisers will be invited to participate.

In steaming across the Pacific, following the departure from Yokosuka navy yard, the Asama and Adzuma are said to have met with pleasant weather, with the exception of several days while off the coast of northern Japan. Leaving the island empire behind on April 20, no effort was made to hasten the arrival of the fighting ships.

At the naval wharf were gathered Japanese high in island official as well as business and professional life. A reception committee in addition to Acting Consul Hachiro Arita and a staff of seven included the following: Messrs. S. Aoki, D. Yonekura, M. Komura, S. Takagi, T. Onodera, Y. Nishikawa, Y. Takaki, Dr. Katsunuma, I. Takahashi, representatives of five Japanese newspapers, T. Okumura, Y. Imamura, E. Ito, K. Miyo, C. Eiki, Dr. Mori, M. Yamashiro.

Rear-admiral Kuroi held an impromptu reception on board the Asama, upon that vessel berthing at the naval wharf. He then announced that it was the present intention to dispatch the fleet from Honolulu for Hilo about May 15. Remaining there two days, the cruisers are destined for the southern California coast. Whether the vessels will follow a northerly course visiting Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma, or proceeding direct to Mexico ports is a matter that will not be fully determined until the receipt of later cables from the navy department at Tokyo.

The Asama and Adzuma are expected to return to Yokosuka, Japan naval station by the early part of August, and will be met by the early part of August.

Arrangements were this morning completed for the free transportation of all men belonging to the two cruisers over the lines of the Honolulu Rapid Transit system during the stay of the vessels at Honolulu.

NEW LINE OF FUN PRODUCERS ARE PLACED ON TAP

Schofield Barracks Mecca of Local and Service Folks
Again This Afternoon

The County Fair is again in full swing at Schofield Barracks this afternoon, and with one day intervening between the opening and the second and last performance, a big time is assured to Honolulu visitors. Yesterday the army people laid in a new stock of fun-making specialties, and indications are that today's affair will be even more successful than was Wednesday's entertainment. The same general program, with a few added features, is being given today, and with the benefit of the previous performance, it should run even smoother than before.

In the matter of attendance it is believed that today's mark will pass that of Wednesday. From the Schofield end, practically the entire strength of the post will turn out, this being the day set aside for enlisted men. There will be no counter attraction of baseball, and every one will be at the fair grounds.

A large delegation of soldiers from the Honolulu posts left for Schofield on the special train that was dispatched at 1 p. m., and these will be the guests of corresponding organizations at Lihue. Companies of the 1st infantry are to entertain the corresponding companies of the 2d infantry at supper this evening, and the coast artillery organizations are also being looked after.

Visitors from the city can leave Schofield for the return trip at 6 o'clock, on the regular train, or at 10 a. m., on a special, the round trip excursion tickets being good on either train. The round trip fare is 75 cents. One of the features of the Schofield Barracks County Fair this afternoon will be the auction sale of a four-cylinder Buick Car, presented by the von Ham-Young Company, the auction to be handled by Elmer L. Schwartzberg, for the Jas. F. Morgan Co., Ltd.

The entire proceeds, inclusive of the auctioneer's fees, will be donated to the Army Relief Society's fund.

FAIR COMMISSION SOON TO TAKE UP MATTER OF POSSIBLE RETRENCHMENT

On account of the absence of J. N. S. Williams, the Hawaii Fair Commission at its meeting yesterday afternoon deferred action in the matter of considering a number of items on the proposed schedule of expenditures, which, at a recent meeting, were laid aside for possible reduction. In making this statement this morning, Chairman H. P. Wood said that the matter will come up at the meeting to be held next Thursday afternoon.

Present at the meeting was Secretary of the Territory Wade Warren Thayer, who, after cautioning the board to take careful steps in making expenditures, said that no one on the coast would be given power of attorney for the commission, and that all bids and other matters will be considered by the board sitting in session here. The commission appropriated $25 to assist F. A. Potter, Jr., in arranging a fish collection for the aquarium at the exposition.

H. GOODING FIELD NOT POPULAR WITH THE COMMISSIONERS

H. Gooding Field's report as auditor of the graft commission was made public last week. It contains a long statement of the results of his investigations, with which readers of the Tribune are familiar. A new feature is the statement that in Field's opinion "much, if not the whole of the fraud and irregularities which I have discovered... can be directly attributed to the apathy and incompetence of the office of the territorial auditor."

The commissioners are now working on a report, which they will probably submit to the governor in July. From statements made by some of the commissioners, and discussions they have held, it can be stated with confidence that it will controvert some parts of the Field report, though it will probably incorporate much of it as a part of the record in the case. The commissioners and Field are not in very harmonious relations. In fact it is stated that but for the fact that he had got so far into the work, and was regarded as a thoroughly competent accountant, the commission would have fired Field many weeks ago. But they didn't want to "swap horses while crossing a stream," and Field was retained. The commissioners have been studying modern methods of municipal government, with a view to making some recommendations to improve the system here. One recommendation which it is likely to be made is that the office of county auditor be eliminated altogether. It does a lot of clerical work which some of the commissioners regard as of no value to the county, there being sufficient other means of checking the work of the treasurer. The abolition of the office of auditor will therefore probably be one of the recommendations in the commission's report.—Hilo Tribune.
